CORNERSTONE RECRUITING LAUNCHES NEW DIVISION

Bel Air, MD, March 16, 2010 - Cornerstone Recruiting is pleased to announce the launch of its newest division - Facility Pro Recruitment. Facility Pro Recruitment was created specifically to focus on the recruiting needs of the Facility Management and Building Operations Industry. Some of the positions that this new division will specialize in include Facility Managers, Building Engineers, Maintenance Technicians, Energy Managers, Property Managers and Executive Staff within the industry.

Since its inception in 2004, Cornerstone Recruiting has focused its efforts in the Construction, Facilities Management, Building Operations, and Skilled Trades Industries. Cornerstone Recruiting Founder Charlie Dougherty said "Over the years Facilities Management and Building Operations placements have steadily increased despite the decline in the economy. " By creating Facility Pro Recruitment, Cornerstone is now able to assign dedicated resources and staff to specifically focus on the Facility Management and Building Operations Industry.

Over the next 5 to 10 years the Facilities/Building Operations industry is going to see large scale retirements of Baby Boomers and there will not be enough generation X and Y professionals in place to adequately backfill those positions. Companies will need to partner with firms such as Facility Pro Recruitment to ensure they are able to stay competitive with a dwindling labor pool. With an aggressive advertising campaign in place, representation at several national Facility Management trade shows, and a team of dedicated recruiters utilizing a mix of cutting edge sourcing tactics combined with good old fashioned recruiting techniques, Facility Pro Recruitment will be positioned perfectly to make sure its clients continue to get the talent they need to be successful.
